Clouds to The Atlanta Georgian,
Oct. 17.—Twenty-seven officers and crew of the dirigible were killed
when the new dirigible
No. 1, the biggest aircraft yet built, exploded 3,000 feet above the city of Atlanta.

Among the injured was Harry Von Hug, who was making the trip as a guest of the admiralty of the United States.

Spark Caused Explosion.
Investigation showed the explosion was due to an electric spark caused by the failure of the engine.

Among the injured was Harry Von

SULZER, BEFORE AND AFTER

These two photographs show how worry and grief over his impeachment have aged Governor Sulzer. The photograph on the left was taken several months ago, and the one on the right a few days ago.

REMARKS BY INTERVIEWER HERE

EFFECT OF MOON IS BLAMED FOR HAUG SUICIDE

THOMASVILLE, Oct. 17.—All the mystery connected with the death
here last Monday of Miss Dorothy Haug, the pretty young Valaisian stagnography, was cleared up today when the coroner's jury, in re-converted session, had before it the report of Dr. C. C. Prager, of the Folkston detective office in Atlanta.

Feeling Was High.
Feeling was high here when word
arrived from Atlanta Wednesday morning. At that time the coroner's jury had already rendered a verdict that Dorothy Haug had been murdered by an unknown party and it would not have been possible to convict anyone.

Boy Hit by Negro Develops Tetanus And Is Near Death

Henry Leonard, Jr., eight years old,
of No. 11 Morris avenue, died in the Atlanta hospital last night, the victim of a kick landed by a three-year-old negro.

Leonard is the grandson of the late Henry C. Leonard. Ten days ago he was playing in the back yard of his grandfather's home, when a negro boy living on the street in the rear of the house, threw a rock at him which struck him in the head.

MRS. BARTON IS IN FLIGHT FROM CUTLER SUIT

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Isabelle
T. Barton, who is being sued for $10,000 by Coleman Smith Cutler, a wealthy stationer of Atlanta, for the allegation of his wife's infidelity,
has fled to her home in San Francisco,
where she is being sought by the detectives in pursuit.

Details of the suit, which was filed in the city of Atlanta, were given last night by the Atlanta Georgian.
The suit was filed in the city of Atlanta, where Mrs. Barton is now being sought by the detectives in pursuit.

POSTED, HE CONSIDERS RETURNING

Sulzer Gets Magazine Offers Also.
Bitter Statement Is Expected
From Deposed Executive.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 17.—William Sulzer was removed formally from the office of governor of New York at 11:30 o'clock to-day by the vote of more than two-thirds of the high court of impeachment which convicted him of falsifying a public record, perjury and of attempting to induce another to commit perjury.

Further Action Talked.
Purely collateral was another accusation as to whether or not an attempt would be made to bring criminal prosecution against Sulzer.

Then article 6 was read and "not guilty" voted in short order. The lawyer charges had accused the court of having been biased in the question of whether to grant a writ of habeas corpus to the prisoner.

Further action was talked of later. The court was expected to render a decision on the writ of habeas corpus in the afternoon.

PRISON CHIEF SCORED BY GUARD

Present Employee Corroborates Charges by Hawthorne of the Mismanagement of Convicts.

As shocking as were the revelations of alleged conditions in the Atlanta Federal prison made by Julian Hawthorne, when the doors opened to let him free, they were surpassed in their ugliness by a story related to The Georgian Friday by another man—not a convict, recently liberated, as was Hawthorne, but a guard who has been working at the prison for years and who hopes to work there many more if the authorities do not succeed in learning his identity.

For obvious reasons he would not tell his story except under promise that his name would not be used. It is declared that if Warden Meyer learned who it was who only had corroborated Hawthorne's story, but had added to it, the official would get busy at once and he (the guard) would be without a job. That there are many other guards and employees at the prison who would testify to the actual conditions at the prison if anyone could guarantee that they would hold their positions afterward was the startling statement of this guard.

While the floodgates of criticism have been opened upon the warden
by the sensational story of Hawthorne and his companion, Dr. W. J.
Morton, Meyer has not been without his staunch friends and defenders.
J. P. MacIntosh, medical director at the prison two and a half years, told
The Georgian Friday that there was nothing to the charges. A number of former convicts also have put in a good word for the warden and his aide and have accused the story that the prisoners are mistreated of being a lie.

The guard who told his story to
The Georgian said that he was

Plot to Kill Huerta Discovered; Troops Guarding Palace

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian,
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17.—Troops guarded every avenue of approach to the national palace to-day following the discovery of a plot to assassinate General Huerta. Guards were placed about the gates last night, but to-day
the military cordon was extended half a mile from the building.

Reports that Huerta would remain within 48 hours period to-day. It was rumored he had been warned that if he did not resign the army would revert to General Huerta, Minister of War, would seize the reins and execute Huerta as a traitor.

Tears 'X-Ray' Gown Off Wife on Street; Court Upholds Him

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 17.—Judge David H.
Robinson in Police Court to-day ruled that a man had a right to tear immodest clothes off his wife if he could prove that he had furnished the funds to purchase the garment, even though it were imported from Paris.

The husband was charged with tearing off his wife's night gown on a public street. The wife's attorney argued that the husband was guilty of a crime. The judge ruled in favor of the husband, saying that he had a right to remove the garment if he could prove that he had furnished the funds to purchase it.

CAPTURE IS HASTENED AS END OF MYSTERY

Negro Who Robbed Hospital Here
Said to Answer Description of Leagon Slayer.

In the negro who gave his name as John Henry, after he had shot at two
men and committed four robberies,
the Atlanta police Friday expressed
the belief that they have the man who shot his way out of an art studio, in Chicago, and have solved a mystery which has puzzled the police
of that city since it was committed
October 1.

The negro, who was arrested as the result of a clever ruse by Miss Nellie Abshire, a nurse whose room in the Georgia Baptist Hospital dormitory
he had entered, tallies with the description of the man hunted for the murder of Mrs. Leagon in the Northern city. The negro admitted to Chief of Detectives Lanford that he was in Chicago at the time the art student was murdered. He also stated that he had heard of how she was murdered, but declared that his knowledge came only through reading
newspapers.

Mrs. Leagon's mutilated body was found on a lower train in the vicinity of Chicago, after she had left her home to answer a mysterious telephone call for a nurse. Persons later discovered they saw a copper-colored negro enter suspiciously in the vicinity of where the young woman was murdered. They stated that she was well and apparently cheerful and well dressed.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.
BERLIN, Oct. 17.—Twenty-seven aerial ships and officers of the imperial navy were killed when the Zeppelin L-2, the largest airship in the world, exploded 2,000 feet above the Zeppelin Airfield today.

The tragedy, following so closely after the loss of a sister ship, the Zeppelin L-1, which was wrecked on the North Sea in September with a loss of thirteen lives, created consternation throughout Germany.

Among the 26 persons on board the crashed were the Admiralty Trial Court, headed by Commander Lord
Dunlop, Commander Freye and Captain Giffard.

Among the injured was Baron Von Hug, of the Queen Augusta Grenadier Guard, who was making the first of a series of the admiralty trials.

As shocking as were the recitations of alleged conditions in the

Little Girl Falls
From Second Story,
But Escapes Death

Plunging from a second-story window to the cement sidewalk fully 30 feet below, Margaret, the 3-year-old daughter of Cleveland Stager and wife, of Blackwood, N. C., had a miraculous escape from death Friday morning. A compound fracture of the right leg and a few minor bruises were the only injuries the little girl sustained.

Margaret was sitting in the window in the front room of the house of Mrs. Joseph, 16 Capital Square, where her mother was visiting. Believing the little girl would fall, Mrs. Joseph and Mrs. Joseph and the mother hurried downstairs, expecting to find the child dead, but instead she was sitting on the sidewalk crying, her little leg crumpled beneath her.

The automobile of Dr. J. B. Campbell hurred her to the Wesley Memorial Hospital.

MCCLURE TELLS HOW
CAPTAIN SAVED DOG

Capt. Inch, of the Volturno, was the last to leave the burning ship. He was badly blinded by smoke and is under the surgeon's care. He saved his dog, Jack, by strapping a life preserver to him.

It was due to Capt. Inch and his officers that there was no general panic among the passengers, but a tragic incident occurred just before the Kronland had in sight. A young married couple from France, despairing of being rescued, committed suicide by jumping overboard eloped in each other's arms. It appears that from fifty to seventy-five passengers, mostly from the first cabin, were lost by the capsizing of the Volturno's boats. From C. W. McClure's story of Volturno disaster.

C. W. McClure, Kronland Passenger, Wonders
at Conduct of the Carmania.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—C. W. Mc-Clure, prominent Atlanta merchant, head of the McClure firm and longtime resident of the city, and a leader in the Progressive party in the South, told a graphic story of the Volturno disaster on his arrival in New York aboard the Kronland, which saved him from the ill-fated vessel.

"When I took passage on the Kronland," said Mr. McClure, "nothing was further from my thoughts than that for my passage money I would see the greatest spectacle ever witnessed on the sea. And the horror of being present while scores were burned and drowned was almost made up for by the gallantry of the men who saved the hundreds of survivors of the Volturno."

The heroic work of the Kron-land men in bringing the desperate passengers from the burning liner is something that time can never erase from my mind.

No Praise for Conard.

"But there is one thought almost as disturbing as the loss of those that perished, and that is that the Carmania, the first vessel to the scene of the disaster, failed to lower a life-boat, failed to rescue one single passenger from the burning ship. None of us could understand why."

"Had the commander of the Con-ward acted with the dispatch of the Kronland, the first vessel to the scene of the disaster, the loss of life would have been diminished by scores."

The Call for Help.

We recalled the call for help
while 1,500 miles west of Dover, at a

Negro Who Robbed Hospital Here

of Leegson Slayer.

In the room where his name as John Henry, after he had shot at two
men and committed four robberies,
the Atlanta police Friday expressed
the belief that they have the man
who slew his Leegson, an art student, in Chicago, and have solved a mystery which has puzzled the police
of that city since it was committed
October 4.

The negro, who was arrested as the result of a clever ruse by Miss Nellie Abshire, a nurse whose room in the Georgia Baptist Hospital dormitory
he had entered, tallies with the description of the man hunted for the murder of Mrs. Leegson in the Northwest city. The negro admitted to Chief
of Detectives Lanford that he was in Chicago at the time the art student
was murdered. He also stated that he had heard of how she was murdered, but declared that his knowledge came only through reading
newspapers.

Mrs. Leegson's mutilated body was found on a lonely prairie in the outskirts of Chicago after she had left
her home to answer a mysterious telephone call for a nurse. Persons later declared they saw a copper-colored
negro acting suspiciously in the vicinity of where the young woman
was murdered. They stated that he was tall and square-shouldered and
well dressed.

Answers Description.

In these particulars Henry tallies
with the description. The negro can give no satisfactory explanation of why he left Chicago. That he is a desperate character was proven by
the slaying of his Atlanta victim.

Henry is being held under $5,000
bond for two cases of assault with
attempt to murder and four burglaries. He is accused of entering the home of Mr. Frank M. McShane, No.
82 East Morris avenue, and shooting at McShane when discovered. On Wednesday night, it is charged, the negro entered the home of E. C.
Bruce, No. 22 Simpson street. He shot at Bruce and then escaped. That same night he entered Miss Abshire's room in the hospital dormitory. The young woman, hearing the negro, told
her roommate that she was sick and went out of the room. She then notified the police and the negro was captured after he left the dormitory.

Picture Sent to Chicago.

J. J. Wright, the levitation expert at the police station, while questioning
the negro, found that he came from Chicago. In a cross-examination the negro made damaging statements regarding his knowledge of Chicago and the Leegson murder. He has been photographed and a picture of him
sent to Chicago police for possible identification.

Reckless Driver of
Auto Sent to Jail

Sheep Jordan, a negro, was sentenced to serve 30 days in the stockade Friday for recklessly driving an automobile belonging to his brother,
L. J. Jordan, a bicycle dealer, of No.
61 South Forsyth street.

Jordan drove the car from the front of the shop while Mr. Hood was inside, and at the corner of Hunter street and Madison avenue, while trying to turn around, ran on the sidewalk, demolishing a fruit stand and breaking a telephone pole off.

Spark Caused Explosion.

An investigation showed the explosion was due to an electric spark caused by the battery which was carried in the balloon.

The victims were either killed or severely injured or suffocated. At least one man that they begged to be saved.

men and committed four robberies,
the Atlanta police Friday expressed
the belief that they have the man
who slew his Leegson, an art stu-

October 4.

The negro, who was arrested as the result of a clever ruse by Miss Nellie Abshire, a nurse whose room in the Georgia Baptist Hospital dormitory
he had entered, tallies with the description of the man hunted for the murder of Mrs. Leegson in the Northwest city. The negro admitted to Chief
of Detectives Lanford that he was in Chicago at the time the art student
was murdered. He also stated that he had heard of how she was murdered, but declared that his knowledge came only through reading
newspapers.

Mrs. Leegson's mutilated body was found on a lonely prairie in the outskirts of Chicago after she had left
her home to answer a mysterious telephone call for a nurse. Persons later
declared they saw a copper-colored
negro acting suspiciously in the vicinity of where the young woman
was murdered. They stated that he was tall and square-shouldered and
well dressed.

Answers Description.

In these particulars Henry tallies
with the description. The negro can
give no satisfactory explanation of
why he left Chicago. That he is a desperate character was proven by
the slaying of his Atlanta victim.

Henry is being held under $5,000
bond for two cases of assault with
attempt to murder and four burglaries. He is accused of entering the home of Mr. Frank M. McShane, No.
82 East Morris avenue, and shooting at McShane when discovered. On Wednesday night, it is charged, the
negro entered the home of E. C.
Bruce, No. 22 Simpson street. He shot at Bruce and then escaped. That
same night he entered Miss Abshire's
room in the hospital dormitory. The
young woman, hearing the negro, told
her roommate that she was sick and
went out of the room. She then notified the police and the negro was
captured after he left the dormitory.

J. J. Wright, the levitation expert at

the negro, found that he came from Chicago. In a cross-examination the
negro made damaging statements re-

DOBBETRY PRISONER IS TRAPPED BY GIRL NURSE; CAUGHT AFTER HOT CHASE

After robbing the rooms of two students at No. 14 Simpson street and shooting at R. C. Bruce, who discovered him in his home at No. 22 Simpson street, John Henry, a negro, 21 years old, No. 101-2 Central avenue, invaded the nurse's dormitory of the Georgia Baptist Hospital, No. 18 Luckie street. He was trapped through the presence of mind of Miss Nellie Ablett, a nurse, after he had robbed half a dozen rooms and stolen watches and jewelry valued at several hundred dollars.

Miss Ablett, when she was awakened by a noise and saw the figure of the burglar moving about the room, did not scream. She nudged her roommate and said that she was sick.

"Can I do anything for you?" her roommate asked.

"No," replied Miss Ablett. "I think I'll get up and get a drink."

Burglar slips from room.

The burglar, hearing the two young women talking, hid behind a trunk in a corner of the room, and as Miss Ablett rose from her bed, uttering like she was ill, he slipped quietly from the room and out of the building. He stood on the sidewalk for a moment, and then started slowly toward Peachtree street.

Miss Ablett, once the burglar was out of the house, aroused the other occupants of the dormitory, and the police were called. Officers George Watson and O. R. Jones, who had been scouring the city for traces of the burglar who had plundered the Simpson street house, answered the call.

When the officers rode up to the hospital the burglar was seen two blocks away. He was walking leisurely toward the heart of the city. Jones and Watson started in pursuit, and the negro ran. The policemen chased him up Luckie street and up Peachtree street to the Anagh Hotel. The negro ran down Ellis street and entered the basement of the hotel, hiding in a coal bin, where he was found by the officers after a search of half an hour. The negro offered no resistance when dragged out of the bin by the officers.

In addition to attempting to rob

the room of Miss Ablett, Henry entered the rooms of five other nurses and stole several hundred dollars' worth of watches, rings and money.

Enter by Window.

He entered the dormitory by a back window and slipped into the room of Miss Bird Yawher. He took a gold watch from under her pillow while she slept. In the room of Miss Margaret Phillips the negro took a gold watch off a dresser within two feet of her head, and in the room of Miss Ruby Kismet he took a watch from a mantle directly above her bed.

A ring and a sapphire locket containing a sum of money were stolen from the room of Miss Clotilde Risher, and in the room of Miss Flora Simpson the negro rifled a trunk and took a small sum of money.

In each of the rooms the negro took his time. He rifled trunks, drawers, the dressing tables and bureau, and scattered the clothing and other effects of the young women all over the floor. None of them were awakened until the negro entered the room of Miss Ablett, who was aroused as the negro jerked angrily at a drawer in the dresser that stuck when he tried to open it.

Heard to Grand Jury.

Henry was arraigned before Judge Browne in Police Court Thursday morning and held to the grand jury on $5,000 bonds on three charges of burglary and one charge of assault with intent to kill in the attempted robbery of Miss Ablett.

Detectors are working up another case against Henry, which, he probably will be tried within a few days. When he was arrested, a revolver belonging to Frank M. McSherry, No. 24 Harrison street, was found in his pocket. Last Tuesday night Mr. McSherry, hearing a noise in his room, awoke to find a man rifling the drawers of his dresser. He sprang from his bed, and the burglar fled. Red one shot the burglar from the dresser, and the burglar fled.

Henry's arrest was the climax of a week of crime that kept the police on the run from midnight until dawn. On Monday night the burglar shot the door of the Simpson street house, entered the room of No. 14 Simpson street, and robbed two students.

Robbed Two Students.

He slipped into a room occupied by O. H. Tatum, of Lafayette, Ala., and G. D. Harrison, of Prosperity, Ga., students of the Southern Baptist College, and stole two watches, a sum of money and large quantities of clothing.

The negro then entered the home of R. C. Bruce, foreman of the commissioning room of the Atlanta Constitution, at No. 22 Simpson street. He cut through the side screen, broke the back window, and the noise of the burglar cutting the wire screen woke Mr. Bruce, and though startled, he detected the burglar and called the police.

and the mud was splashed from the muddy ramparts that the corporation, liquor men, conservatives and reactionary politicians have built up around Underwood.

Just a Tool.

"Underwood is now preparing to be the same kind of a dummy and figurehead that he was in the Presidential campaign, being really nothing more than a tool to carry out the wishes of the men who are against the interests who are against the people of the State and their high capacity for self-government by putting in the discard this abject reaction to the State has developed in many years."

Congressman Hobson speaks in Carverville Thursday night and Friday and Saturday in Eastern Tennessee.

Captain Hobson was very interested in the reports, proving conclusively that Underwood did receive a contribution of $10,000 from Thomas F. Ryan in his presidential campaign. The President is now being Underwood in his Alabama.

TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when it is streaked or gray, also ends dandruff, itching scalp, and keeps the hair soft. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Now it is simply a matter of getting a bottle of "Woolly's Sage and Sulphur Hair Dressing." You get a large bottle for about 50 cents, and you can use it for a long time, because no one can possibly tell if you have used it or not. You can draw this dressing over your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy, and you look years younger.—Advt.

Carey Park Monday

Fifty First-Choice Lots in This Center of Development Activity Will Go On the Market at 9 o'Clock October 20th at Only One Dollar Cash and One Dollar a Week

CAREY PARK will be opened to home-builders and investors next Monday morning at 9 o'clock at the Germania Savings Bank, No. 2 Whitehall Street.

The first fifty lots, any choice from the plat, will be sold at the phenomenally low price of only $200 each, and on the never-feel-it-terms of only one dollar cash and one dollar a week, without interest or taxes until paid for. Think of it! And Carey Park is on the street car line with a five-cent fare, with another street car extension to approach it on the south side.

The first fifty lots in Carey Park will sell faster than any lots ever sold before in Atlanta. Mark the prediction. Prices will then be advanced 12 1/2 per cent on all unsold lots. Fifty more lots will thus be sold at the advance of $225 each, and then another fifty at $250 each, and so on until Carey Park lots are selling for double the amount the ground floor investors are required to pay next Monday.

Think the matter over! Look up the map of Atlanta and study suburban growth and values for a moment. In the meantime don't get away from the salient fact that—

One dollar cash and one dollar a week buys a lot in Carey Park—makes you a freeholder; gives you as your own a piece of God-given ground, the basis of all wealth, the foundation of the only independence, the stepping stone to success and happiness. One dollar cash buys for you a real estate investment that puts your surplus savings to work as diligently and as profitably as you work yourself—it puts into your possession the world's greatest incentive to save, to accumulate—a lot on the fringe of a growing city; a lot to build upon and occupy, or to sell again at a profit, or to use as a nucleus upon which to pyramid other investments—a lot that will grow in value each day, that will double up the investment in profits, that should form the bed-rock of future fortune.

Carey Park lots are especially large. They will average 140 feet in depth. None are less than fifty-foot fronts. The streets and avenues are wide—the alleys are wide. Many handsome cottage homes are now being erected. Stores are being built—there is a general spirit of activity and development there. Streets are being graded. The County will chert the Peyton road through the center of the park. A beautiful spring and park site is being developed. And the whole is without a parallel around Atlanta as to picturesqueness. "A natural park," said a visitor yesterday. A natural park, indeed, on which the hand of progress has already been laid.

Don't forget, too—The Hollywood and Gary roads are both to be graded by the county; the Mason and Turner road is to be widened for an extension of the street car line through Center Hill and to the south border of Carey Park—and Carey Park is just west of the magnificent Grove property, "Fortified Hills," on which hundreds of thousands of dollars will yet be spent for development.

On the whole, what do you think of it? Listen—We make a study of development conditions; we make a study of realty values. It is safe to follow where we lead. Thousands of real estate investors throughout the South to-day will testify to the truthfulness and the sincerity of that statement. Now, remember—

Carey Park Monday! Don't overlook the date—don't neglect the opportunity. In the meantime call at the Germania Savings Bank and let us show you the plat—let us show you the property. We want to show you. A property that is not worth showing is not worth selling. We are anxious for you to see Carey Park—

And when you see Carey Park, and study the conditions that make Carey Park to-day the greatest investment opportunity around Atlanta, we shall ask simply that you act upon your judgment.

JAMES A. HOLLOMON
President American Securities Co. at Germania Savings Bank.

P. S.—Carey Park property is owned in fee-simple by Mr. John Carey and his son, Hon. Dan Carey, park commissioner, who will execute all contracts for deeds, and all collections will be made by pass book through the Germania Savings Bank.

REHALL MERCHANTS DUPED BY WHEELER COULD NOT GRAB DIRT

Merchants on Whitehall street between Mitchell street and Trinity avenue appeared visibly annoyed Friday on the anniversary of the injunction which has been issued by W. L. Kelley, manager of the East Georgia Company, No. 118 Whitehall street, to prevent the city from going on with the grading, which was started several days ago by the opening of the street.

All of the merchants with a single exception, had been busy almost noonday the grading when the project was described in the Commercial Appeal, but some of them now are of the opinion that it will not do any good to fight the city on the proposition, and as the conditions are determined to go ahead with the work, they are going to let the city have its way.

There are, however, a few who are of the opinion that they can force a delay until the city has had a chance to get the work permanently.

There are the opinion of some of the principal merchants in this block as given by The Georgia Daily Commercial Appeal, Empire Furniture Company, No. 129 and 131 Whitehall street.

The prevailing proposition and the uncertainty which has been compared it already has been about as disastrous a thing as could have happened to us here, as we are expected to start grading now and I hope that the injunction will be sufficient to hold up the work until after the holidays, at least, although I would have preferred that there was no grading at all. It is a life a most severe penalty imposed on the merchants in this block to bring a doubtful benefit to the city and to the city.

Whatever the final decision, I would like to see it made at once. We are in a very bad way. Money day after day the project has been forced to cancel many of our work, and we are in a very bad way. It is a life a most severe penalty imposed on the merchants in this block to bring a doubtful benefit to the city and to the city.

In addition to the loss of trade, which the other merchants along the street will suffer because of the remodeling of the building, the city will be forced to build the new grade. Altogether we will be forced to build the new grade. It will hit us in the worst way.

WATER REMOVED FROM OFFICE. CONSIDERS OFFER OF CHAUTAUQUA DATES

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 17.—William Sulzer was removed formally from the office of Governor of New York at 11:15 o'clock today by the vote of more than two-thirds of the high court of impeachment which convened at Albany for a public session of perjury and of attempts to induce another to commit perjury.

The vote was 42 to 12.

Chief Justice Cullen and Senator Weeks did not vote.

There was bitter denunciation of the governor in the closing hours when the court proceeded to dismiss articles 5, 7 and 8. Dismissal was based upon the head of the conviction of official and in the denunciation of Sulzer even Chief Justice Cullen, who had steadily voted to acquit him, joined with a scathing comment upon the dishonorable practice of the Governor.

At the time of the actual judgment, Martin H. Glynn, became Governor by virtue of succession from the office of Lieutenant Governor, and Robert G. Wagner, President of the Senate, became Lieutenant Governor. Glynn formally was sworn in as the forty-third Governor of the State of New York this afternoon by Chief Justice Cullen, of the Court of Appeals.

"This is not an occasion for exultation. I have no such feelings," said Governor Glynn. "To me it is an occasion of solemnity mixed with sadness. I am charged with the duties of Governor, not through any act or deeds of mine, but because the law which I am sworn to uphold imposes the obligation upon me under the direst circumstances of the situation that has arisen."

Speculation as to what revelations, if any, Sulzer will make when out of office took the place of the political work in the minds of the politicians.

Further Action Talked.

Purely collateral was the other question as to whether or not an attempt would be made to bring criminal prosecution against Sulzer.

The conviction of perjury and of attempts to induce another to commit perjury left no doubt as to the guilt of the Governor.

The court voted unanimously not to disqualify the Governor from future offices of trust.

The indication was that no further action would be taken against the former Governor unless he made such charges against Tammany as were demanded by way of extenuation.

The court voted free to-day on a charge of perjury leveled by Frederick L. Caldwell against the Governor.

The article was read and "not guilty" voted in a short order. The charge had received its first blow at the beginning of the trial when Chief Justice Cullen stepped evidence bearing upon the charge of perjury leveled by Caldwell against the Governor.

Sulzer Nerves Statement.

Articles 7 and 8, which charged the Governor with the authority and influence of his office to effect legislation on his direct primary bill and other bills, and with attempting to influence the price of stocks on the New York Stock Exchange, were put through the same rapid-fire system of dismissal.

The Senators voted "not guilty" just as fast as they could be called. Still in session Sulzer signed a statement, bitter, vindictive and stinging in its terms. To-day it was pronounced as the closing official act of the Governor.

Governor Sulzer and his cabinet will leave Sunday afternoon for the Adirondacks, where they will spend some time.

Friends have suggested that the Governor devote himself in the future to a career of magazine writing and chautauquin lectures. Already many offers have come to him which insure him a handsome income in either field. The chances are he will try both.

All Albany was interested to-day in the election of Governor Sulzer from the "People's House." The local interest was born of curiosity more than of sympathy. It being about an event, not about a family.

The new Governor exhibited no incident, aside from requiring from the old incumbent of the Executive Mansion the South key.

Mrs. Sulzer and her sisters were with the Governor at the mansion during the closing hours of the fight made by the friends to save his political life. It was a pathetic little group of faithful relatives that remained at the mansion while the members of the high court were placing the words that took from the Governor every vestige of the place, the honor and the prestige with which the people of the State had a few months before had vested him.

New Governor Is Newspaper Publisher.

Martin Glynn, who automatically became Governor of New York when William Sulzer was removed, was born at Kinderhook, N. Y., 42 years ago. He was graduated from Fordham University in 1904 and earned the law. He is at present publisher of The Albany Times Union. He was elected to Congress in 1918 and also served as a member of the National Committee for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition by President McKinley.

Boy Hit by Negro Develops Tetanus And Is Near Death

Henry Leonard, Jr., eight years old, of No. 31 Merritt avenue, lies in the Atlanta Hospital near death, the victim of a bullet fired by a 16-year-old negro.

Leonard is the grandson of the late Henry Leonard. Ten days ago he was playing in the back yard of his home on the corner of Merritt and Third streets, when he was struck in the head by a bullet fired by a 16-year-old negro.

The boy was taken to the hospital, where he was treated for tetanus. He is now in a critical condition.

Clayton says he married her out of pity and that she, unlike most blind persons, has a temper of fury.

SPARTA CITIZENS ATTACK FRANK TRIAL JUROR

Declare Henslee's Statement That He Made Alleged Remarks After Trial Is Wrong.

Another shot was fired Friday at A. H. Henslee, one of the Frank Jurors, accused of bias and prejudice.

The fresh attack came from Sparta residents who were aroused to indignation by the statement of Henslee that he made the remarks they credited to him since and not before the trial. They denied Henslee's declaration in a communication forwarded Wednesday to Frank attorneys, and asserted they had not seen Henslee since the trial.

Their reply to Henslee's defense was much to the same effect as that of Nunnally and Ricker, of Monroe, who said Henslee had not been in town since the trial, so far as they knew, and that Henslee's remarks denouncing Frank therefore must have been made to them before Henslee became one of the jurors.

Movements Traced.

The accused juror's movements have been carefully traced before and after the trial. Agents acting for the defense have been assisted in this task by the recovery of certain copies of orders taken by Henslee, who is a traveling salesman.

Marcellus Johnson, another juror charged with bias, was in a brief conference Friday with Sulzer's lawyer. He signed a declaration denying all prejudice. He reiterated his opinion of Frank's innocence several times during the trial, and that the lawyers for the defense would be able to substantiate his charges.

The juror would be rapidly completing his work in preparation to argue against the motion for a new trial.

He will spend the night at the Hotel Windsor. He made arrangements to confer with representatives of the defense at 6 o'clock Friday afternoon for the purpose of checking up on the trial of evidence.

Frank, who assisted in lawyers during the hardest of the work in preparation for argument in behalf of the new trial, now has less to occupy his attention and is spending much of his time, when his relatives and friends are not visiting him, in reading and studying.

Little Girl Falls From Second Story, But Escapes Death

Plunging from a second-story window to the cement sidewalk fully 20 feet below, Margaret, the 5-year-old daughter of Cleveland Jetter and wife, of Blackward, N. C., had a miraculous escape from death Friday morning. A compound fracture of the right leg and a few minor bruises were the only injuries the little girl sustained.

Margaret was sitting in the window in the front room of the home of Mrs. Jetter, 34 Capitol Square, where her mother was visiting. Believing the little locked door, Mrs. Jetter and Mrs. Jetter paid little heed to the child. A screen across the two women who turned in time to see Margaret falling head, but instead she was sitting on the cement, her little leg crumpled beneath her.

The automobile of Dr. J. H. Campbell turned her to the Winder Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Pierce's Wife Files Cross Bill in Fight For Divorce

Charging cruelty, abuse, intimidation and slander to her husband, Mrs. Susan M. Pierce, Friday filed a cross bill and a suit for divorce against Dr. A. M. Pierce, who sued for divorce a few days ago.

Mrs. Pierce asks $50 per month alimony; attorney's fees and the custody of her child.

In addition to the cross bill the plaintiff filed a technical demand for the suit, and also filed a petition to recover some of her husband's property, which, she says, she was forced to relinquish through fear for her reputation and her life.

STONE MT. FARE WAR PROMISES A BOYCOTT

Citizens Declare Real Estate Transactions Have Been Made on 15-Cent Rate Basis.

Open threats of boycott against the new Stone Mountain car line, recently completed by the Georgia Railroad and Power Company, in the event the proposed 15-cent fare is charged, were made by citizens Friday following the hearing before the State Railroad Commission Thursday.

The Railroad Commission, which took the entire matter under advisement following the hearing, promises to announce its decision within the next ten days or two weeks. In the meantime the Commission will make a personal trip over the new line to an automobile to see conditions for themselves.

While the hearing Thursday was taken up principally by a statement of the property owners and a petition for the lowering of the fare, the hearing also took up the question of the cost of the line, at times when citizens representing the property owners and the railroad were led to invent in their statements the misunderstanding that a 15-cent rate would be charged.

Mayor E. J. Wagner, of Stone Mountain, declared that he had been notified of the proposed 15-cent rate, and had promptly promised a 15-cent rate, and that he had been notified of the proposed 15-cent rate, and had promptly promised a 15-cent rate.

and returned with difficulty. An hour later, the sea having calmed slightly, three more boats were launched, and these, too, were reaching the Volturno, but the passengers refused to jump. The boats, however, returned after half an hour with thirteen who had been taken to take the risk. The Krohnards were most anxious to save lives.

"It was the judgment of Captain Krohnard and the chief engineers that the sea would calm toward morning and that the Volturno could hold out. At 5 o'clock the Krohnards caused two lifeboats to be lowered. There were in command of the second and fourth officers, and they were lowered and landed on the beach. The Krohnards, however, reached the Volturno, and in a short time brought aboard the Krohnards. More passengers, members of the crew and officers, Soltan and Pashan, the Maroon, appeared, stuck to their posts until the boats had arrived.

"The work of the Krohnards was magnificent. They went down and saved lives in the boats. I have never seen a ship so well run in this time that was taken to the Krohnards. But the sea made no effort to calm, and the Krohnards, who were in command of the Volturno, and every member of the crew, were ordered to leave the ship to the Krohnards.

Boy Hit by Negro Develops Tetanus And Is Near Death

Henry C. Leonard, ten days ago he was lying on the back yard of his grandmother's home, when a negro boy living on the street in the rear of the home, threw a rock at young Leonard which struck him in the head.

The wound did not cause serious trouble until Thursday, when tetanus set in and he was moved to the hospital. It is said the boy has little chance for recovery.

Complaints against a "vampire dance" as shown in a Whitehall street motion picture theater caused Willis M. Everett, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Carnegie Library, which is also a board of censorship for films, to outline the policy of the board toward moving pictures in an interview to The Georgian Friday.

Since the passage of the motion picture censorship ordinance by Council several weeks ago only one other film besides the "vampire dance" has given the board any serious concern. That was "Babes," a recent feature picture at a Peachtree street theater. When the board finished cutting that drama of its riquet French scene. It was stripped almost as completely as the mail. Everett said the "vampire dance" was not in the details of the heart. They accept all films as good enough to be shown in Atlanta. I have been passed by the National Board of Censorship, unless there is a complaint. When there is a complaint, they investigate. What caused the mix-up on the "vampire dance" was that complaints were sent direct to Police Chief Beavers after the picture had been put on.

Everett went to see it. The dance fitted into a drama with a moral, but Everett couldn't see much more up in the snake-like manner in which the vampire crept through the woods after her victim. He also said her transparent clinging draperies were most too risqué.

He requested the manager of the theater to abandon one feature of the "vampire" drama. Members of "old Beavers" "vice squad" also advised that it be stopped. The manager complied, but his patrons demanded their money back, so he put it on again.

In view of the fact that the official censors had permitted the picture to go on without protest, no action will be taken against the manager.

"The trouble is that someone out there is getting a bad name for the National Board of Censorship," said Mr. Everett.

"We've got a thousand jobs. We are abused by open town advocates on one side and persons with preposterous tendencies on the other. We are serving without pay."

"The asked several who made complaints how much more proper they expected us to make motion pictures than grand opera. The picture shown in Atlanta are considerably more than that any of the famous opera."

Attack Bribe Story In 'Ritual Slaying'

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian, KIEV, Oct. 17.—Counsel for Alexander Bell, who is on trial here charged with a "ritual murder" moved today that part of the testimony of Vera Tcheberlak, who said she had been offered $10,000 to kill the slaying of the 12-year-old boy, be stricken from the record because of its "evident fallaciousness."

The prosecution considers that it has established a strong case and vigorously opposed the elimination of any of its testimony.

PROTECTORATE OVER MEXICO DEMANDED

House Member Declares U. S. Should Restore Peace—Two More Americans Murdered.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17.—The Mexican populace was wildly excited this afternoon by extraneous rumors.

It was said that General Huerta had been arrested and was being transported in the National Palace. Members of the Cabinet denied the report.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Representative Shawcross, of Ohio, today demanded in the House that the United States join with other powers in establishing a protectorate over Mexico for the restoration of peace.

He argued that such action would not only restore peace but also would prevent the Monroe Doctrine, and said that he had no criticism to make of President Wilson's policy.

President Wilson's policy, he said, was in using moral suasion and other diplomatic means in the settlement of the Mexican question.

Shawcross, who is a member of the House of Representatives, said that the United States had assumed all the burden of the Mexican question, and that the United States had assumed all the burden of the Mexican question.

CITY'S INCOME SETS A RECORD THIS YEAR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The city of Atlanta has set a record for its income this year, according to a report from the city's financial department.

The report shows that the city's income for the year ending September 30, 1917, was $1,000,000, a record for the city.

The increase in income is attributed to a number of factors, including the city's successful management of its finances and the city's economic growth.

The city's financial department is proud of the record and expects to continue to set new records in the future.

BISHOPS SCORE DARING COSTUMES

But One, From Japan, Says Denouncers of Women's Dress Are Ignorant on Subject.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The New York and other bishops today scored the daring costumes worn by some of the most prominent Episcopal bishops in the United States in conference here.

An expression of opinion was asked of the bishops, and they expressed their disapproval of the costumes.

One bishop, Dr. P. S. Boushelle, of Utah, declared he never had seen a girl dressed in such a daring costume.

Another bishop, Dr. J. C. Gurnea, of Kentucky, said that he had seen a girl dressed in such a daring costume.

BRIDE SAVES HER HUSBAND IN FIRE

H. W. Cochran Rescued After Burning Timbers Had Fallen Across His Body.

With flames leaping at her night robe and down smoke choking and blinding her, Mrs. H. W. Cochran, bride of two months, dragged the unconscious form of her husband from the burning home at No. 120 West Tenth street, Thursday night.

The roof of the building had caved in, and the bride was lying on the floor. She was rescued by a fireman.

The fire was caused by a gas leak. The house was a two-story building and the fire spread very quickly.

The fire department arrived in time to save the bride and her husband. The house was a total loss.

The bride and her husband are now in the hospital. They are both recovering from their injuries.

ONE GRAND BIG HOSIERY SALE!!!

Women's and Children's---Every Size

A Few Words About Our Hosiery

We buy only the BEST and turn over to our customers every pair in A-1 condition without any imperfections. There are no hosiery sold here with the story that "they are good seconds or just a thread dropped and won't make any difference." It will make a great difference, for once the thread IS BROKEN nothing can save that stocking. You can mend till your eyes are gone—the stocking is doomed. If you buy a child's stocking and one thread weak or gone at knees, you might as well throw away.

OUR BUYER in selecting his Hosiery takes his time in looking into the merits of the goods before they are sold over our counters. Buy good Hosiery—It pays. We have the exclusive agency for "Cadet" Hosiery in Atlanta, and we seldom get a pair brought back in a month. This means something.

A Showing of the New Autumn Laces To-morrow

When boxes of new laces are opened women are interested! On top of this some of these laces are very remarkably priced. A fine day to-morrow for women!

They shall see all the laces that are now wanted for the new waists, dresses and underwear—for the "soft styles," as they have been called—perhaps so called because softness is the very quality that these laces lend to the styles.

At least this seems to have been the idea of Paul Poirer when he (for instance) gave us the Minaret gown and incidentally a great impetus to the use of laces.

Shadow Laces—Cream, white and black, edges, bands, flouncings and all others in high favor because they are so tissue-like.

Chantilly Laces, the always elegant lace—new patterns, in edges, bands, flouncings and all others, white, cream and black.

Net Top Laces, soft, delicate, dainty—much sought for overdrapings of evening dresses. Edges, bands and all others; white, cream and black.

Camisolé Laces for the transparent dresses, with ribbon braiding at top and bottom; they are 12 to 18 inches wide and specially priced at 25c, 50c and 75c a yard.

Shadow Nets, beautiful, 42 inches wide, white, cream, tan and black, $1.00 to $5.00 a yard.

Point d'Esprit, 36 to 45 inches wide; cream, flesh and black, 50c to $3.00 a yard.

Plain Nets, 32 to 72 inches wide; cream, flesh and black, 50c to $2.00 a yard.

The Store of Trimmings

is a busy spot. That is because women are finding in it the trimmings the fashions decree and, therefore, the ones they want.

There are many beautiful things that come under the old names of—embroidered and beaded bands, galleons, edges, flouncings, crystal and gold and silver bands, tassels, loops, ornaments and frogs and fur and marabou trimmings.

ATHENS COLLEGE DENOUNCED BY DR. NUNNALLY

All State Schools Are Declared Unfit for Religious Pupils
by Church Worker.

Because that the University of Georgia and other schools operated as State are unfit to train young women who are destined to become leaders in after life, Dr. Nunnally, executive secretary of the Georgia Baptist Executive Council, said today in a statement issued from Athens, Ga., after his visit to the University of Georgia, that the State schools are unfit for religious pupils.

Dr. Nunnally, who is a member of the Georgia Baptist Executive Council, said that the State schools are unfit for religious pupils because they are not Christian schools. He said that the State schools are not Christian schools because they are not under the control of the church.

CIRCUMSTANCE CHAIN COMPLEXED HAUG CASE

Miss Dorothy Haug, on right, whose death in Thomsville baffled authorities until it was proved a suicide, and her sister, Marjorie Haug.

Single Suggestion of Detective Halted Coroner's Jury and Prevented Unjust Charge.

THOMASVILLE, Oct. 17.—Doubt on the part of a detective of the value of circumstantial evidence closed the mystery of the death of Dorothy Haug.

And circumstantial evidence received its severest blow when Detective Pearce, of the Atlanta Pinkerton Agency, by a single suggestion proved that there was no hand in the death of Dorothy Haug save her own.

The college girl had been found dead.

There was a wound on her head. Indications were that the abrasion was the result of a blow.

Girl Carried Insurance.

Miss Haug carried $500 insurance. Her family apparently was in straitened circumstances.

The family would be benefited financially by her death.

Colonel T. N. Hopkins, prominent

Thomas County attorney, on his own responsibility undertook the investigation of the girl's death. A coroner's jury was impaneled. A warrant was ready to be sworn out. According to Colonel Hopkins, an indictment against the girl's mother was about to be drawn.

Then the detective was called in. Detective's Theory Right.

"She may have killed herself," said the detective.

"How could she hit herself on the head hard enough to cause death?" asked the lawyer.

"That wound may have been caused by a bullet," said Pearce. "Remove the top of the skull and see if you find a bullet," he advised.

This was done.

The bullet was found.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide.

B. R. T. AUXILIARY CLOSES.

CHATTANOOGA, Oct. 17.—With the organization of productions by Mrs. Nora Walton, of Texas, the Grand Lodge of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen completed its biennial session here today.

WOMEN EAGER TO IMPROVE SCHOOLS

Volunteers Numerous to Assist
Women's Club in Compiling Data on Conditions.

While the committee of the Federation of Women's Clubs to take up the campaign for the betterment of Atlanta school conditions has not been announced, many of the individual women are actively at work. Data on the school conditions in other cities is being secured. Mrs. Charles J. Haden, president of the Federation, said Friday she was busy organizing the committee on which would be women from every ward.

An encouraging fact to Mrs. Haden and the other leaders is the number of volunteers from all over the city. Hundreds of women are anxious to be enlisted as active workers.

Mayor Woodard suggested Friday that the conditions at the English Avenue school could best be relieved by building a $10,000 annex for the new building.

The Mayor does not insist that the school funds be changed so as to fill up the nearby Apple street school. The school is only about one-fourth filled because parents object to it because their children would have to go through a negro section to get there.

New Pictures for The Montgomery

The remodeled Montgomery Theater opens Saturday, under new management, new policy and new exclusive pictures.

With the opening of the Montgomery, under the management of O. P. Hall, comes the announcement that a contract with the General Film Company, who represent the Vitaphone, Kinograph, Solari, Biograph, Lubin and other members of the association, whereby an exclusive territory in Atlanta of its moving pictures has been secured.

To open, the Grand Hotel, the society entertainer and singer, has been engaged as a special attraction.

Atlanta Receiver Of S. Carolina Road

GREENVILLE, S. C., Oct. 17.—W. H. Tamm, of Atlanta, has been appointed receiver for the Greenville and Knoxville Railroad by Judge H. P. Rice on a petition of a number of employees and creditors.

Mr. Tamm has been president of the road since 1913.

It is believed here that the receiver will make a reorganization of the more stable financial basis, with the ultimate extension across the mountain into Tennessee. A controlling interest in the road was acquired some time ago by Mrs. G. Chandler of Atlanta.

SENATOR PASSES LIE IN TENNESSEE

Assemblymen Quarrel Over Credit
for Passage of Prohibition Law Enforcement Bills.

NASHVILLE, Oct. 17.—With all the prohibition law enforcement bills passed and the Tennessee Senate and House rushing to wind up the extra session by to-night a bitter debate took place in the Senate today between Senator Clement (regulator) and Senator Fulton (independent) as to whom the credit for the passage of the bills should belong.

Fulton characterized a statement of Clement that the Senate, at the regular session, had traded off the bills for patronage, as an insult to the Senate.

He repeated the statement, threatening to throw an issue well at Clement, when the latter admitted Fulton from any part in the alleged trade and peace was restored.

The report of the House Judiciary investigation committee substantiated the charge that he had been offered $2,500 by prominent regulars to remain away from the Senate.

The matter was referred to the Attorney General for investigation.

Some Unusually Pretty Dresses For Children Have Just Been Unpacked In the Junior Department (Third Floor)

Sizes 6 to 14 years, with a sprinkling of what is known as intermediate size—just larger than a fourteen, but smaller than and fashioned differently from the junior size, 15 years.

Those worthy of particular note are of serge, challis, ratine and velvet. Colors and styles for "best" wear.

Colors and styles for school wear.

All novel and attractive. One will have a wide belt placed very low, perhaps the belt is a Roman striped or plaid silk or a fur-edged band of self-material, another will have the waist of side buttoning effect, another will have a laced up waist, some of the more "dressy" ones will have Irish crochet collars and others dainty Swiss embroidery collars.

Plain shades of navy, black, dark red, black-and-white checked serges, two-toned ratines.

We believe these the smartest dresses for children Atlanta has seen—and so will you.

They are Priced at $5, $6.50, $7.50, $8.50 to $15 and $20.

The Little Coat For A Gingham Dress The Little Dear May Be A Very Pretty Thing

"Cunning" and "cute" and ever so comfortable!

They are in sizes one year to six years.

And there are many more styles than sizes.

Velvets, mixtures, zibelines, boucle, Ural lamb (a cloth that looks like fur), broadcloth, corduroy.

Some of these are just coats—very plain and very neatly and trimly finished, and others are dressed up a bit with fur collars, with belts and novel buttons and with Irish crochet collars.

The price range gives you an idea of the variety. $3.50, $5.00, $6.75 and up to $20.00.

When the Schoolgirl Plays "Gym" Suits and Middy Blouses

She must play, so let her be comfortable and free and easy in mind and body.

With a "gym" suit on she need have no fear of tearing her clothes. These are of mohair—navy and black—one-piece suits of blouses and blouse. They are $3.50.

Many middies—white galatea with trimmings of red, cadet and navy, at $1.00 and $1.50.

Khaki color and navy middies of saten and galatea in smaller sizes at 50c; larger at 60c to $1.50.

From the Store of BEST Gloves

We quote these as a guide to your glove buying and ask you to remember that we have worked very hard to make the above statement about best gloves a real fact.

You will make no mistake in selecting any one of the following gloves—they are what we claim to be the best gloves at their respective prices.

The Solitaire at $1.00, the finest glove we have ever seen for $1.00. 2-clasp, Paris point stitching.

A P K Sewn Glove at $1.00, 1-clasp, black, with white stitching and white with black stitching.

A heavy Street Glove at $1.25, 1-clasp, in tan, slate, black and white, fine for shopping.

A Mocha Glove at $1.25, very serviceable and full of warmth. 1-clasp, gray and tan.

The Navarre at $1.50, a soft, genuine kid skin 2-clasp glove, black, white and colors.

The Trefousse P K Suede Glove at $2.00, 2-clasp, black, tan and gray.

The Trefousse P K Kid at $2.00, 2-clasp, superb, "live" kid skin, colors and black with white stitching.

The Trefousse P K Kid at $2.00, 2-clasp, tan, slate, pruned and black, with white stitching, the white with black stitching.

The Valance—A Trefousse Glove, 2 pearl clasps, P K sewn, of supple kid, skin, black, white, tan, gray, with heavy embroidery and pipings of self or self and black. One of the smartest gloves of the season. $2.00.

The Trefousse P K Kid at $2.00, $3.50, black with broad white or self-stitching and the white with black stitching.

Net Guimpes that relieve a dress of its sameness; very stylish, too. White, cream, navy and black; some touched with hand-embroidery. 25c to $5.00.

New Windsor Ties; decidedly new in that they are of such soft fabrics; crepe de chine and satins, and in shades that mark the style tendencies in suits and millinery this season.

And the many kinds of puffings, net, lace, chiffon and crepe de chine. You will decide this to be a big neckwear season for yourself!

"CADET" HEATER

We state positively and can prove it—the cheapest and most efficient water heater for any home is the "Cadet" Heater—set up ready for use, $15.00. This heater is cast iron, and the fire box is literally lined with twenty-one (21) feet of 3-4 inch galvanized pipe in 7 coils, which comes in direct contact with the fire.

A handful of chips or a shovel of coal will give you a boiler full of hot water in less than ten minutes.

We insist that the "Cadet" is the cheapest heater in the world at $15.00, set up ready for use. True, you can get a makeshift for $12.50, maybe, but compare them. The cheaper ones have about only 2½ coils of pipe or about 7 feet, and weigh about half as much as the "Cadet."

A "Cadet" Heater will last a lifetime. It is guaranteed by us and we are right here to make our guarantee absolutely good. If you insist, any stove dealer will get and install you a "Cadet" Heater for $15.00.

CANAL IN PERIL BY DELAY LAD TO WILSON

No Steps Taken for Operation.
Goethals' Advice Ignored.
Workers Grumble.

By WILLIAM HOSTER.
Special Cause to The Atlanta Georgian, PANAMA, Oct. 17.—A crisis in the canal project is now being faced by the United States government. The canal is in peril because of the delay in the construction of the locks.

The flow of water is constantly increasing. With the locks not yet completed, the canal is in peril. The workers are grumbling because of the delay in the construction of the locks.

The men must be carefully directed by Colonel Goethals, for there can be no error in the construction of the locks. The workers are grumbling because of the delay in the construction of the locks.

“THE beginning of a conversation is something like sub-

When an introduction is made and conversation begins it may be necessary to say very commonplace things. Simple remarks about obvious things are not despised by many worldly-wise and confident people. Natural remarks about what is of momentary or passing interest may open a way to pleasant tion requires a reply, and may be asked in a pleasant way to show that one cares for an answer. Then the reply may be followed up with a remark. It is important to add something to what others say in order to make interest. If a question is asked it should be answered.

It is said that no one should talk more than a half minute without giving others a chance to speak. While it may seem a paradox that silence is an art in conversation, it is quite true, for it means that there is a talent in being silent, in being a good listener, in having an inviting, interested manner in listening, in being amused, surprised and truly responsive.

Shyness is often self-consciousness and may be selfishness. If one would stop thinking of self and the impression one is making there would be more ease in conversation.

Information and Entertainment Go Hand in Hand

Sunday's Hearst's American Will Be Brimful of Good Things to Read—Don't Miss It.

If you were to buy a pound of steak and the merchant would add a peck of potatoes without extra charge, you would feel that you had a real bargain.

There's a better one in Hearst's Sunday American.

You pay five cents for a newspaper.

You get a newspaper—the best the South has ever known.

But you get more.

You get a magazine more interesting and illuminating, more instructive and artistic, and more valuable than two-thirds of the publications for which you pay three times as much each month.

You get a section devoted to humor that makes the weekly magazines devoted to fun seem as sad as the sorrowing sobbing of a sixteen-year-old girl suffering from unrequited affection.

Just take next Sunday's issue for example. It's typical. It's typical because it's great.

We'll forget the big news sections for the moment.

Let's turn to the magazine pages.

The very first page strikes you. It tells every housewife where the pots and pans of her kitchen came from originally. It deals in interesting detail with the recent discoveries in Sardis that throw new light on prehistoric domestic habits. It is illustrated with paintings made by the Etruscans more than 3,000 years ago. The article is alive with interest to the student of history, of archaeology, of art, of science or those who feel a new interest in life when the smell of good things cooking is wafted from the kitchen.

Turn to the next page. It contains information worth twice the purchase price of the paper. In its eight columns it contains something of personal interest to every class of mankind.

There is a scientific discussion of why the moon makes you swoon and how the sun stops you.

It tells of a marvelous night mirror operated by wireless that makes the seas safe. It tells of an artificial kidney invented to prevent suicide. Automobiles are told how gasoline can be made cheaper. You devotees of the modern dance can here learn how the lango wards off gray hairs.

Over on the third page there is a story of real life more thrilling than fiction. It is the history of the miserable finish of the notorious and clandestine Mont-Brown romance, whose chief actors risked all there is in life on the loving chance that "true love excuses everything." And the lesson it teaches is that happiness can not be bought at the cost of sin.

Every animal lover will find a mine of information on page four. Convincing evidence is there collected by a distinguished scientist, who cites his psychological experiments to prove that man's faithful four-footed friend, the dog, is as capable of reasoning as his master.

And then there's a story, too, of how Secretary of State Bryan dressed up the "September Morn" mummies of Mexico.

Turn the page and you encounter the thrilling story of how the wickedest woman in Paris paid the penalty of her sin. This narrative of the tragedy of a modern Othello reveals the growing degradation of Parisian society. It is a wonderful story, wonderfully illustrated.

Again turning, the reader will find two pages devoted to that marvelous life story of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw—the fourth installment of the most extraordinary human document ever written, stranger than any story in fiction or drama. This installment tells of Evelyn's life as Harry's bride among the Thaws in Pittsburgh and how Stanford White tried to poison her mind against her husband. It is just as grippingly interesting as the stories that have gone before. It gives a marvelous insight into the life of Pittsburgh's plutocracy.

The next page is a mine of information. It tells of new things not found in any book. There is a story of how Helmut Keller's useless ear drums respond to a powerful violin note, of how bright colors are the huntsman's best aid. You can learn how to make a farmhouse efficient and comfortable, how civilization makes us immune to many diseases. You are told things to remember when you buy a pipe, what your finger nails tell about you and what nothingness is made of.

Everyone has been interested in little Manuel of Portugal. His sensational reign is still fresh in memory. His dramatic de-thronement, his flight to England, his marriage to the pretty Princess of the Hohenzollerns have followed in quick succession. And now we are told why Manuel couldn't stay married. The story is told by the girl who kicked the little King off his throne, Gaby Deslys, the famous French dancer. Her story explains why the Princess who got him couldn't keep him. It's a real story.

In this day of woman's progress in the civilized nations, it is strange to learn that in secluded Tibet the suffrage movement has been in force for years. In a deeply interesting story Mrs. Nalk Komishewa, the first native Tibetan woman to visit America, explains how women have ruled the men of her country for 800 years, how they do all the proposing and how they send their husbands to the monasteries whenever they tire of them.

Five million dollars of golden treasure is to be garnered by an expedition of fortune seekers. The American has a narrative telling how success at last awaits the searchers for the vast golden hoard of the warship Lutina, sunk beneath the Zuyder Zee 113 years ago.

Then there is a page of patterns and Lady Duff-Gordon's description of the latest feminine fashions.

But all this isn't half. The world's most famous comic artists parade their creations for you. There's Powers and Fisher and Swinnerton and Oppen, McCay and McManus. They will give anybody a solid half hour of fun.

The cable pages are ripe with articles written by men who know the inside happenings of the Old World capitals.

Our own politics are discussed by men who know Washington as thoroughly as James B. Nevin knows his Georgia.

On the sport pages there is a wonderful array of experts. With the football season of the South under way, there is some mighty interesting reading in the articles of J. W. Heisman, Imit Brown, O. E. Keeler, and W. S. Farnsworth. The big events of the East and West are covered completely by men famous in the world of sport.

Every other possible element of news interest is covered in the same way.

And this assures the fact that next Sunday's American will be Dixie's most complete newspaper.

"Stand Aside, Mother—You Don't Know Enough to Vote"

The Vilest Man Would Be Ashamed to Say That to His Own Mother. But in Nearly All States That is What the Law Says TO ALL MOTHERS.

Copyright, 1915, by Rex Cowles

The picture at the top of this page is an exact picture of the mental machinery of the underbred, half intelligent, THOROUGHLY UNGRATEFUL son of woman, who believes that woman's right to vote.

Proud man, as a BABY, is very glad to lie on his mother's breast, to be fed and cared for, and protected, perhaps, against a drunken father. His mother seems to him quite intelligent enough to attend to THAT work.

A little later, proud man is glad to have mother comb his hair, wipe his nose, and tuck him in bed, and save and skim, denying herself, that he may have decent clothes, and not be laughed at by the boys at school. She does not seem to him inferior at THAT moment.

And when his first big sorrow comes—when some girl has had the good sense to tell him that he looks very silly to her, and not worth thinking about, he is glad to get comfort for his pride and his torn heart from that same mother. To him she then seems like the incarnation of ALL wisdom and of all goodness.

But watch him a little later, when, thanks to her care, he has been "raised," pulled through one sickness after another, and has reached the age of twenty-one.

Then a strange and interesting change comes over his magnificent intellect.

HE IS GOING TO VOTE.

And all of a sudden, "Mother," becomes a pitiful inferior, not to be spoken of in the same breath with her distinguished son.

"Stand aside, mother," says he. "This is too deep and too profound for you."

She knows what life is, what the dangers are that attack boys especially.

If she is rich and her boy has had money, she knows to her sorrow the curse of whiskey and of gambling.

Her own goodness does not save her from suffering through her son. But she is merely the mother of the son, and must not be permitted to vote against the politicians and the corruptors who live by gambling and whiskey.

If she is poor she has struggled to feed and clothe that boy from his babyhood. Her pitiful income has been taxed by one trust after another. But she is not good enough to vote to protect herself against those trusts that inflict upon her taxation without representation.

She has seen streets, parks and schools neglected, immorality, degradation and blackmail permitted at her very door—and she must not vote to protect herself against the vile system that is the result of VOTES BY MEN EXCLUSIVELY.

Pity the poor dog calling himself a man who would not be willing to let his own mother vote.

But do not permit him to say that the vote shall not be given to the mothers of other men.

If a man admits, as he must admit, that the goodness, patience, devotion of the human race are seen especially in the mothers, how in the name even of brutality can any man deny that those qualities of good women should find expression at the polls.

All women will vote in this country—and very soon—in spite of brutality, ignorance, bigotry, that wants women kept ignorant, and the monkey-like conceit that has distinguished a majority of men thus far.

Girls in West Virginia are not to be permitted to wear jewelry during working hours, class legislation, of course, in favor of safe deposit and trust companies.

Irish, ex-convicts growed! John Redmond is a grand old man of times.

Sam Houston's portrait has come down from the Texas State House and Joe Baller's has taken its place. It is to be noted that the portrait of deposit accompanied the exchange.

Furniture Facts

Here is a five-story store (enter from Whitehall street or through the main street) given over to the display of furniture and furnishings for the home. As far as our knowledge goes the largest furniture store in the South—which, applied to the individual purchaser, means a freedom to choose from varied stocks that could not be enjoyed in any other store.

This five-story store is filled with a stock of furniture and furnishings that were chosen by experts—by men who know, through experience, training and constant study.

Every piece of furniture that is here is here because these experts have found it to be the best of its kind. This applies with equal meaning to those pieces and sets at medium and low prices and to those elegant, rich pieces and sets of finest woods and truest styles.

There is not an unworthy piece of furniture in the place, which means that when one buys furniture here one makes an investment that is certain to pay dividends, in long years of service.

All of which leads us to suggest that this is the logical furniture store.

Are you in need of even the smallest piece of furniture this fall?

Wide Circulation For Atlanta Boosts

Two articles handling Atlanta and giving a clear, concise summary of the resources of the city have just been completed by W. H. Lusk, secretary of the Industrial Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, for Eastern and Southern commercial publications.

One of them, a 320-word article, is for The Industrial Freight Shipper's Directory, issued by the Railroad Advertising Agency of Chicago, and the other, a 400-word article, is for The Commerce Record of New York, the official paper of the New York University of Commerce.

Law-Charles. The wedding of Miss Willie Rose H. Law and Mr. Theodore Cheshire, last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Law, on Peachtree street.

Thomas-White. Miss Margaret Thomas of Athens, and Mr. Robert Paine White, of Whitesboro, were married Wednesday evening at the bride's home.

The decorations were bride's roses and greenery.

The bride's sister, Miss Minnie Thomas, was maid of honor and Miss Isabelle Thomas, another sister, was bridesmaid. Mr. Hugh White was groom, and the others were Mr. John W. White and Mr. Bolling White.

The bride was given in a blue dress, in a rose pointed lace.

Information and Entertainment
Go Hand in Hand

Sunday's Hearts' American Will Be Brimful of Good Things to Read—Don't Miss It.

If you were to buy a pound of steak and the merchant would add a peck of potatoes without extra charge, you would feel that you had a real bargain.

There's a better one in Hearts' Sunday American.

You pay five cents for a newspaper.

You get a newspaper—the best the South has ever known.

But you get more.

You get a magazine more interesting and illuminating, more instructive and artistic, and more valuable than two-thirds of the publications for which you pay three times as much each month.

You get a section devoted to humor that makes the weekly magazines devoted to fun seem as sad as the sorrowing sobbing of a sixteen-year-old girl suffering from unrequited affection.

Just take next Sunday's issue for example. It's typical. It's typical because it's great.

We'll forget the big news sections for the moment.

Let's turn to the magazine pages.

The very first page strikes you. It tells every housewife where the pots and pans of her kitchen came from originally. It deals in interesting detail with the recent discoveries in Scandinavia that throw new light on prehistoric domestic habits. It is illustrated with paintings made by the Etruscans more than 3,000 years ago. The article is alive with interest to the student of history, of archaeology, of art, of science or those who feel a new interest in life when the smell of good things cooking is wafted from the kitchen.

Turn to the next page. It contains information worth twice the purchase price of the paper. In its eight columns it contains something of personal interest to every class of mankind.

There is a scientific discussion of why the moon makes you spoon and how the sun stops you.

It tells of a marvelous night mirror operated by wireless that makes the seas safe. It tells of an artificial kidney invented to prevent suicide. Automobiles are told how gasoline can be made cheaper. You devotees of the modern dance can here learn how the tango wards off gray hairs.

Over on the third page there is a story of real life more thrilling than fiction. It is the history of the miserable finish of the notorious and clandestine Mott-Bowen romance, whose chief actors risked all there is in life on the losing chance that "true love excuses everything." And the lesson it teaches is that happiness can not be bought at the cost of sin.

Every animal lover will find a mine of information on page four. Convincing evidence is there collected by a distinguished scientist, who cites his psychological experiments to prove that man's faithful four-footed friend, the dog, is as capable of reasoning as his master.

And then there's a story, too, of how Secretary of State Bryan dressed up the "September Morn" mummies of Mexico.

Turn the page and you encounter the thrilling story of how the wickedest woman in Paris paid the penalty of her sin. This narrative of the tragedy of a modern Circe reveals the growing degradation of Parisian society. It is a wonderful story, wonderfully illustrated.

Again turning, the reader will find two pages devoted to that marvelous life story of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw—the fourth installment of the most extraordinary human document ever written, stranger than any story in fiction or drama. This installment tells of Evelyn's life as Harry's bride among the Thaws in Pittsburgh and how Stanford White tried to poison her mind against her husband. It is just as grippingly interesting as the stories that have gone before. It gives a marvelous insight into the life of Pittsburgh's plutocracy.

The next page is a mine of information. It tells of new things not found in any book. There is a story of how Helen Keller's tactile ear drums respond to a powerful violin note, of how bright colors are the human's best aid. You can learn how to make a farmhouse efficient and comfortable, how civilization makes us immune to many diseases. You are told things to remember when you buy a pipe, what your finger nails tell about you and what nothingness is made of.

Everyone has been interested in little Manuel of Portugal. His sensational reign is still fresh in memory. His dramatic dethronement, his flight to England, his marriage to the pretty Princess of the Hohenzollerns have followed in quick succession. And now we are told why Manuel couldn't stay married. The story is told by the girl who kicked the little King off his throne, Gaby Deslys, the famous French dancer. Her story explains why the Princess who got him couldn't keep him. It's a real story.

In this day of woman's progress in the civilized nations, it is strange to learn that in secluded Tibet the suffrage movement has been in force for years. In a deeply interesting story Mrs. Nalk Komtshewa, the first native Tibetan woman to visit America, explains how women have ruled the men of her country for 600 years, how they do all the proposing and how they send their husbands to the monasteries whenever they tire of them.

Five million dollars of golden treasure is to be garnered by an expedition of fortune seekers. The American has a narrative telling how success at last awaits the searchers for the vast golden hoard of the warship Lutine, sunk beneath the Zuyder Zee 113 years ago.

Then there is a page of patterns and Lady Duff Gordon's description of the latest feminine fashions.

But all this isn't half. The world's most famous comic artists parade their creations for you. There's Powers and Fisher and Swinerton and Oppen, MacKay and McManus. They will give anybody a solid half hour of fun.

The cable pages are ripe with articles written by men who know the inside how the Old World capital.

Our own politics are discussed by men who know Washington as thoroughly as James E. Nevin knows his Georgia.
